What is Biotin?

Biotin is necessary for cell growth, the production of fatty acids, and the metabolism of fats and amino acids. Biotin is also helpful in maintaining a steady blood sugar level. Biotin is often recommended for strengthening hair and nails. Consequently, it is found in many cosmetic and health products for the hair and skin.

A lack of Biotin can contribute to eczema and seborrheic dermatitis in areas of the body other than the scalp. The scaly skin changes that occur in people may be related to poor ability to use biotin. Increasing dietary biotin has been known to improve seborrheic dermatitis in these cases.
